

Favorite 2200

Marrying the classic Mulder Favorite lines with a modern twist, the 22.5-metre all-aluminium Mulder Favorite 2200 has been developed with unique specifications which work perfectly to offer exceptional owner-operated explorations in style and comfort.

The accommodation on board the Favorite 2200 can be found across three generous staterooms. Her airy, light-filled master cabin comes complete with a desk, ample storage space, and a spacious ensuite bathroom with cupboards and a walk-in shower. Two additional guest staterooms are located aft, both of which include a Pullman bed.

As for her styling, the shipyard likes to work closely with the vessel's owners in order to achieve a look which is both contemporary and totally unique, matching the requirements and quirks of her owner. The Mulder Favorite 2200 is a true Dutch product, through and through, with naval architecture from Vripack Naval Architects and both interior and exterior design by Guido de Groot.

Primarily designed as a spacious yacht for all the family to enjoy, the main saloon comes complete with a large seating area and a cosy dining space with a round seat opposite the dashboard, allowing the whole family to try their hand at navigating. In addition, her generous onboard volumes allow for distinctive interior layouts on both the upper and lower decks.

Crafted by her Dutch shipyard with relaxation in mind, guests looking for a space to kick back and unwind are spoilt for choice. On the main deck, guests can enjoy spending time in a thoughtfully-laid out dining area complete with two large couches. A fully-stocked outdoor bar is located on the aft deck, and illuminated stairs lead up to the flybridge where another extensive dining area can be found. Below deck, another relaxation space can be found, complete with a couch, television and desk.

More practical matters are also well taken care of by the Favorite 2200, thanks to her exceptionally large laundry room and spacious U-shaped galley which comes equipped with all the latest appliances. Clever use of storage space is a consistent theme on board the Favorite 2200 and continues below the lower saloon, where a generous storage area of 20 square metres can be found, perfect for storing cool drinks, foods and other perishables.

Of course, it would be remiss not to make mention of the Favorite 2200's flybridge. Its clever design is integrated in such a way that it disappears partially into the superstructure, meaning that the sleek lines of the profile remain intact. As an added bonus, it is possible to control the yacht from either the inside or from the flybridge. Both areas feature the most up-to-date equipment, comfortable seating and a couch portside so that your 'co-captains' can enjoy cruising alongside you.

A feeling of spaciousness can be found throughout the yacht, with all guest cabins boasting a ceiling height of two metres. Guests keen to stay connected with the outdoors can make use of the sunbathing area located on top of the master cabin on the foredeck for Instagrammable ocean views.

Naturally, however comfortable the yacht might be, there will be times when those on board are keen to explore further and get their pulses racing on the water. Here too, the Mulder Favorite 2200 does not disappoint. An easily-accessible tender garage is located in the stern of the yacht which houses a Williams tender, 395 Sportjet tender, a jet ski and four bicycles.

For ease of entering and leaving the water, the aft swim platform comes equipped with an automatic swimming ladder which can be electrically operated by means of a radio remote control or with a smartphone app.

As is typical for Mulder yachts, performance is at the top of the list. Her efficient, fast displacement round bilged hull shape is powered by Twin Volvo Penta D13-1000 engines. The Favorite 2200 quietly and comfortably reaches a top speed of 22.3 knots, with a cruising speed of 17 knots.

Alongside her excellent fuel economy and top-level sailing characteristics, those on board can also enjoy a genuinely comfortable cruising experience, thanks to the high quality noise insulation which can be found throughout the vessel.

Finally, as is becoming increasingly important for the owners of 2022, the Favorite 2200 also hits the spot for those looking to traverse further afield, and has an incredible range of 2,250 nautical miles at a speed of 10 knots.
