

The Intender 820 has a big sister. To meet the demand for even more social space and comfort, the designers in Zwartsluis have cleverly removed the cabin roof of the largest Intender, the 950, making the Cabrio the largest open dayboat that Interboat offers. The result is a superior open sloop with large cozy seats, an expansive sun bed at the stern and a toilet room large enough to create an "L" shaped seating area in the bow. This seating area can also be used as a bed. Still maintaining the quality and handling style of the Interboat series, this model can be powered from 52 to 320 hp via its inboard diesel at a maximum speed of approx. 48 km/h (25 knots).

Completely built by hand at our own Dutch yard with a 10-year hull warranty.

The cabin has two spacious berths including a flush toilet. In the large storage compartments, you can carry plenty of luggage for longer trips. Under the large sun bed, a large storage space or garage has been created for storing, for example, a funtube or other water sports equipment.

In the cockpit, a fountain and a cool box (80 litres) can be found in the side consoles. The positioning of the steering console towards the stern provides a spacious feeling and gives the skipper a good overview of the ship.

The Intender 950 Cabrio is characterised by its spacious cockpit and large sun bed behind the steering position. Both the swimming platform and the large sun bed are easily accessible via a passageway on the port side of the boat. The wide gangways provide a safe and comfortable passageway to the foredeck.
